unflinchingly ring true in a culture that assumes even homicide ‘isn’t about justice; it’s about Nielsen ratings.’” —Publishers Weekly

From the Back Cover

“Cannell knows how to cut to the chase.”

—The New York Times

Lita Mendez has always been a thorn in the LAPD’s side. An outspoken police critic and gang activist, she’d filed countless complaints against the department. So when she’s found dead in her home, Detective Scully and his partner Hitchens fear the worst: that there’s a killer in their ranks. And now that chilling possibility is about to become a reality...television show.

“Cannell’s sturdy just-the-facts style and intimate knowledge of L.A. police procedures unflinchingly ring true.” —Publishers Weekly

Outside the crime scene, a camera crew has set up shop. Hosted by the charismatic Nixon Nash, “Vigilante TV” is dedicated to beating the cops at their own game: solving murders before they can. Scully knows that Nash will do anything in the name of self-promotion. But would he kill for killer ratings? Either way, Scully’s not ready for his close-up. Not when the cameras are zooming in, his career is on the line, and the final credits are about to roll...

“In his valedictory case, LAPD Detective Shane Scully finds real danger in the dubious world of reality TV...Well plotted and smartly paced. Scully goes out a winner.”

—Kirkus Reviews
